

For Public Release

National Security Briefings to Parliamentarians

From: [redacted]@pmo-cpm.gc.ca>
To: "Clow, Brian" [redacted]@pmo-cpm.gc.ca>
Cc: "Travers, Patrick" [redacted]@pmo-cpm.gc.ca>
Date: Thu, 22 Jul 2021 16:45:01 +0000 Attachments: Tab B - Letter to Blanchet EN.docx (22.14 kB); Tab B - Letter to Blanchet FR.docx (21.68 kB); Tab B - Letter to O_Toole EN.docx (21.4 kB); Tab B - Letter to O_Toole FR.docx (22.75 kB); Tab B - Letter to Paul EN.docx (20.94 kB); Tab B - Letter to Paul FR.docx (22.16 kB); Tab B - Letter to Singh EN.docx (21.76 kB); Tab B - Letter to Singh FR.docx (21.79 kB); s. 39 - Cabinet Confidence [redacted]
 s. 39 - Cabinet Confidence [redacted]
 s. 39 - Cabinet Confidence [redacted] s. 39 - Cabinet Confidence [redacted]
 s. 39 - Cabinet Confidence [redacted]

Hi. Patrick asked me to send these your way. There is a related PCO note, but it's only available in hard copy.

s. 39 - Cabinet Confidence [redacted] PCO has already offered election security briefings to the parties, similar to what was done in 2019. My understanding from QPC is those are actually happening today – I just flagged to [redacted]
 As mentioned in my note attached, those briefings are more about helping parties protect their systems, whereas the briefings proposed in the attachments are about the risks of foreign interference more generally.