Background

- During the 26 April 2024 meeting of the Deputy Minister Committee for Intelligence Response (DMCIR), deputy heads recommended that classified briefings be provided to the leaders of opposition parties
- The intelligence indicates that:

a foreign state is interested in influencing political processes

· And that:

a foreign state is interested in influencing political processes

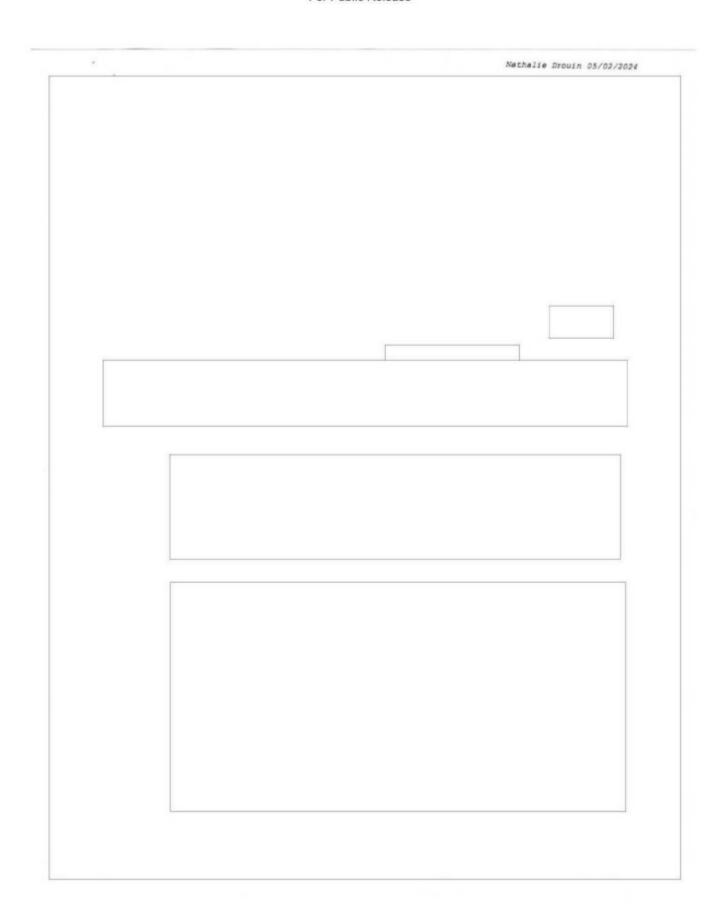

- Tailored products will be developed to support briefing the Leaders.

 however CSIS will develop briefings at the TOP SECRET level, which will allow the briefed parties to identify and, if appropriate, take action. PCO will share the details of the briefing packages with your office.
- Given that classified information will not be sharable by the Leaders to others within their party, PCO and CSIS will work with the Leaders to identify what information can be shared and how the parties might address any identified issues in a way the does not jeopardize intelligence sources.
- In May 2023, you had offered to initiate security clearances for the Leaders of the major federal parties (BQ, CPC, Green Party and NDP) to enable the Party Leaders to view the classified annex of the first report of the Independent Special Rapporteur. The Leaders of the Green Party and the NDP accepted the offer, while the other Leaders publicly stated that they would refuse the offer.

P	CO Comment
0	PCO notes that the intelligence that will be briefed briefing party Leaders on these issues coul allow the parties themselves to identify the issues and take any necessary action to address them.
,	PCO further notes that an ad hoc approach to sharing intelligence, not provide the most effective mechanism to counter national security threats. In parallel with developing a process for regular classified briefings to the major federal party Leaders, PCO will work with Public Safety Canad and the Security and Intelligence community to identify the most appropriat mechanisms of sharing similar intelligence in future cases.
