The NDP had its best chance a decade ago under Jack Layton, but unfortunately there was no successor after he died. The only viable option now is to spread out the votes between the other two major parties

I'm now at a lottery betting center in Tuen Mun town center. The jackpot is $120,000,000 and there has been no winner for the previous three draws. The 75th draw will be on August 31st. Go and buy it. Buy good hope, one night's good dream, life's great joy and a heavenly climax. It'll be life-changing if you win. Good chances like this are rare. Good luck to anyone who buys a lottery ticket and hits the jackpot!! 1:02 AM

The foresight of politicians!

The whole world has been confused all along~

How is it possible that under the political slogan of "reform and opening up," it took only 30 years for China, which was originally poor, secluded, backward and corrupt, and where people were living in hardship, to "overtake Great Britain and catch up with the United States," going from 0 to 100, and catching up with the century-long development of all the advanced countries? And even today there is a hidden tendency for China to replace the United States as the world's number one economic and technological power.

How Exactly Did China Accomplish This Miracle?

[Cantonese:] To be anti-China or not to be is just a slogan to win votes. For the Conservatives to get elected, how could Mr. Vomit [O'Toole] attract attention if he didn't raise his voice, make threats and scare people? In order to make it to the top, each party acts within its interests and does everything it can to win. If the Liberal Party loses this time, and becomes the opposition party, I guarantee that it'll take on an even stronger anti-China stance than the Conservatives. It is too ironic that in the federal election, the Chinese vote for an anti-Chinese Party (Conservative Party), which is unacceptable to me personally. China is the motherland of the Chinese; today, the Chinese can stand up in the world because of their past efforts, which is hard-earned. In the political arena of Canada, it is very difficult for the NDP to become the ruling party, and they are aware of that. It is better to act now at the grassroots level while the left-wing and the right-wing parties are vying for the majority, and to sabotage the future of Canada as a third power. If there is no majority government to rule, Canada cannot move forward, trapped in stagnation without benefits, with a low international standing, and Canada will only be more suppressed by the United States, with its space becoming more compressed. There is no denying that China is strong today. If we retain a basic level of friendly relations with China, we will all benefit from the interaction of our people, trade and economic development.

To boycott the Beijing Winter Olympics is unfair and unreasonable to the athletes who have practiced so hard. The Olympics are politically neutral and an event of friendship, and the Conservative Party is not justified in boycotting the Olympics and undermining the relationship between Canada and China.

Please vote for the Liberal Party and exert the power of the Chinese people so that we can have a chance to influence the future of Canada and create a better life.

I am now serving three ridings and am in great need of your time and donations and volunteers to help with electioneering. Please consider setting up a candidate's election sign in front of your house to help publicize and get votes.

Please contact me directly if you are available to help with electioneering. Regardless of who wins or loses, everyone can do their part to change the outcome. [Emoji: palms together] 3:13 PM

America's Fragility and Cowardice

August 31st (Tuesday)

The United States has been humiliated in front of the whole world by its hasty withdrawal from Afghanistan. Given its arrogance and pride, how can the United States withstand such humiliation?

If the US empire wants to fight back, it may have to step up its coercion against China and Russia. But the notion that China and Russia fear or worship the United States has been dispelled. Under the leadership of Russia's Vladimir Putin, they have begun to shift from defense to offense, pushing back against the United States and threatening to wage a nuclear war at any cost. China also seems to get rid of the blind idealization of U.S. capitalism, remain true to their original aspiration, dare to counter in the national interests, and put forward "a community with a shared future for mankind" to call on like-minded people in the world. Considering the strength of China and Russia, the U.S. can only flaunt from afar, not dare to challenge directly. The United States is now not strong enough to deal with either China or Russia [text cut-off]

HOUSE OF COMMONS

Born in Hong Kong and immigrating to Canada in the 1980s, Kenny Chiu then joined the Conservative Party and was elected to Parliament in 2019 in the Steveston-Richmond East riding. After his election, Chiu was invited to Hong Kong by the Hong Kong Anti-Extradition Law Amendment Bill Movement as a Canadian Member of Parliament to monitor the District Council elections on behalf of the international community. Chiu has repeatedly criticized China and the Hong Kong authorities in Parliament and served as Vice-Chair of the Parliamentary Subcommittee on International Human Rights, where he voted in favor of a Uyghur bill condemning China and calling for sanctions against Chinese and Hong Kong government officials, which led to Chiu being placed on China's counter-sanctions list, barring him from entering Chinese territory.

A Bill Against China

If the purpose of the bill was to prevent foreign governments and political organizations from interfering in Canadian politics, then all foreign governments and political organizations (e.g., the U.S.) should have been treated equally, and mandatory registration should have been required for all individuals and organizations with ties to government agencies in other countries, but Chiu's proposal only required mandatory registration for individuals and organizations with ties to a few "hostile countries". Although the bill does not list which countries are "hostile countries", given that China-Canada relations are at an all-time low, and given the "anti-China" background of the bill's sponsor, Kenny Chiu, it's not hard to guess that this bill is a proposal to target mainland Chinese groups in Canada [text cut-off]

It is a bill targeting mainland Chinese groups and individuals in Canada, with the aim of curbing any pro-China speech in Canada, controlling and monitoring various mainland groups and individuals, and the so-called prevention of foreign intervention is in fact a pretext.

What kind of groups and individuals would be considered as foreign government agents?

Canada is a country of immigrants, and minority communities are inextricably linked to their countries of origin. The Act defines a foreign government agent as any individual or group that is under the control or influence of a foreign government agency. According to this definition, an individual or group that does any of the following would be considered to be under the influence of the Chinese government and would be designated as an agent of the Chinese government:

A letter of congratulations is sent by the government of one's place of origin when a hometown association is established or conducts activities.

A letter of congratulations is sent from the school when the alumni association is established or conducts activities (unless it is a 100% private school)

Groups whose key leaders or individuals have attended China Embassy & Consulates' events, e.g. National Day receptions, Chinese New Year celebrations.

Organizations that have invited consular officials to attend events and organizations or individuals that have contact with Chinese officials at any level.

Individuals who have attended events hosted by Chinese government agencies, such as the Mid-Autumn Tea Party of the local Overseas Chinese Association.

Individuals who have worked in government agencies (from the State Council of the People's Republic of China to)

Please pay attention to Kenny Chiu's "Foreign Influence Registry Act" in the Parliament

In April of this year, Conservative MP for Richmond East riding, Kenny Chiu, introduced in parliament private legislative proposal BILL C-282, also known as the "Foreign Influence Registry Act" (Foreign Interference Registry). This bill has already passed the first reading, and according to the legislative procedure of the third reading in parliament, if Chiu is re-elected in this election, this "Foreign Influence Registry Act" will probably officially become a law. Mainland China immigrants in Canada need to pay attention to this bill, because once it becomes a law, any individual or group with ties to China may be considered a spokesperson for the Chinese government and be required to register specifically. This will have a very negative impact on the freedom of expression of mainland China immigrants, the activities of mainland China associations, and normal economic, cultural and technological exchanges between China and Canada.

Mainland immigrants = Communist Party members?

On May 31, 2021, Kenny Chiu, the Conservative Member of Parliament for Richmond East riding, described Chinese immigrants in three categories, using "Communist Party member immigrants" to depict mainland immigrants during a speech at the Special Committee on the Canada–People's Republic of China relationship in Parliament.

[Source text in English]

The Chinese translation is below:

I (Kenny Chiu) categorize them (implicitly referring to Chinese immigrants) into three types:

First type: Old overseas Chinese people who have been living in Canada for decades (implicitly referring to immigrants from Hong Kong who came to Canada in the 1980s and 1990s, like himself).

Second type: Brainwashed Communist Party member immigrants (implicitly referring to immigrants from mainland China who received education in China and have been in Canada for a shorter time compared to the first type).

Third type: Immigrants led by the United Front Work Department of China and the Embassy (implicitly referring to associations with mainland China backgrounds, including various hometown associations, chambers of commerce, and alumni associations).

Kenny Chiu's simplistic, biased, and erroneous classification unfairly labels mainland immigrants as "Communists," unfairly attaching a dangerous and burdensome label to mainland immigrants, leading those who are uninformed or unwilling to seek the truth to mistakenly believe that the thoughts and activities of mainland immigrants are controlled by the Chinese government. This not only causes anxiety and unrest in the community but also dangerously induces societal suspicion about the loyalty of the mainland immigrant community, leading to discrimination against the mainland immigrant community or even the entire Asian community. The experience of Japanese Canadians being interned during World War II serves as a cautionary tale. Such prejudices are indeed very dangerous. With these prejudices, it is not difficult to explain the background and intentions of Kenny Chiu's introduction of Bill C-282 (referred to as the "anti-China" bill by the media) in Parliament, as well as the true reasons behind his labeling and categorization of mainland immigrants.
