One of the biggest reasons I don't want Trudeau is because I don't want vax passports.
So with that being said, why the hell should I go and vote for O'Toole, who also wants vax passports?

If you think you're fighting the left by staying there, you're not.

They've already won.

All you're doing by not leaving is funding their programs & depriving a red state of your vote (where it would matter).

Simple

If natural immunity counted, people would get tested for antibodies. A lot of people would discover they had COVID without knowing it

It would undermine the fear-mongering
